

Folk and Gentry Walks

Distances are given in 'steps' to give you an idea of what is ahead of you. Some walks start in Broseley, others in Benthall and each walk can be started anywhere on the circuit

The Short Walks: These are on hard surfaces and relatively level.

The Little Longer Walk: This has a little down and up walking but is still on hard surfaces.

The Medium Walk: Is the same as the walk above but with a little more hill and also some woodland.

The Longer Walk: Has up and down walking as well as footpaths crossing fields.

Leaflets for all the walks are available for downloading from the council websites:

Parking: Please park in a car park if you travel by car. Most of the routes use lanes which are too narrow for safe parking.

Taking the dog?

Good company and you'll find that there are 'dog bins' along the routes so do please clean up.

Benches

Marked on the maps are benches and each walk will go past at least one bench so you will have the chance to have a rest and watch the world go by. Longer walks have more benches.

Folk & Gentry

Walking for health and fun
The Longer walk

Folk and Gentry Walks are designed for those who have stopped walking for exercise, wish to start again, and would prefer to do it at their own pace.

The Longer Walk is the longest of the routes and gives you a walk with moderate uphill sections but plenty of places to rest. The Bridle Way section can get muddy, so remember to wear suitable footwear. There are two possible starting points for those travelling by car, one at Benthall and the other in Broseley.

Waymarkers will be marked with a purple rose for this route
